

New Hajj Design Video

This video was leaked to the media in mid May 2009, hajj.org.au does not if these plans are genuine or if these plans have been approved by the Saudi government - but it looks like a lot of trouble to go through if this was just a hoax. More details of the new design can be found here on the British Architects Journal web site.

The video definately has some interesting ideas and is worth watching either way.